Summary Vitae for Georgianne Thomas B.A. M.ED

Georgianne Thomas has thirty years of experience in the media, both electronic and print. Ms. Thomas produced for television, live and taped; for radio, live and taped; and has served as editor, publisher, and writer for several newsletters, newspapers and magazines. Ms. Thomas wrote, produced and hosted for four years, Inside International Atlanta on cable 16 and Third World News on WCLK- FM Radio. She was also the Co-producer of Gosfest '91, a mother-daughter Gospel Television Show for London, England which received the DMI (Deliverance Ministries International) Award for Best Gospel Television Program, London, England, 1991. Ms. Thomas served as curriculum specialist in French and she served as script writer for VIDAC (video information digital auto compression), co-sponsored by The Atlanta Public Schools, Georgia State Educational Television, and Westinghouse. This program pre-dated today's technology in the classroom.

In addition to her extensive media background, which includes being the former President of the Atlanta Chapter of the National Association of Media Women and Vice-Chair of the Atlanta Association of Black Journalists, Ms. Thomas is a French instructor, a trainer of trainers, and she is very skilled in international relationships and diplomacy. Ms. Thomas was inducted into Phi Delta Phi Societe d'Honneur Francaise in 1963 and 1995. She received a special citation from former Mayor Andrew Young for her help as a translator for French President Mitterand's 1984 visit to Atlanta. She also served on the Board of the Continental African Chamber of Commerce. She was appointed in January, 1997 by Atlanta Mayor Bill Campbell, to serve as Chairperson of the Atlanta Sister Cities Commission. Ms. Thomas served, prior to this appointment, as founding chair of the Atlanta - Cotonou Sister City Committee, Attaché for the Republic of Benin during the 1996 Olympic Games and worked extensively with organizations in the international community, including the Georgia Council of International Visitors since 1974, S.C.L.C. Women's International Fest and the Atlanta Committee on International Relations. She named and help found the Sister to Hospital Program initiated in Atlanta, Georgia. Ms. Thomas is a graduate of Spelman College, with a B.A. in French, and Georgia State University, with a M.Ed. She is presently a doctoral student at Clark Atlanta University. Ms. Thomas has done additional studies at l'Universite de Laval and l'Universite d'Angers and has experienced extensive international travel.

Ms. Thomas worked with the Atlanta Business League, where she served as co-editor of the Atlanta Business League Newsletter; she worked extensively with the NAACP, working with the membership drive, the Annual Fundraiser and the ACT-SO competition; she served in a leadership capacity with the Atlanta Chapter of the National Council of Negro Women, the United Negro College Fund, and is a former Board member of The Arts Exchange. She is also a member of the Organization of Black Airline Pilots, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., and has been on the speaker's circuit for 15 years.

Ms. Thomas has served as a consultant since 1979 to Warner Books/Farley and Associates as a media escort and planner. Her clients include Richard Simmons, Vanna White, James Redfield, just to mention a few.

Ms. Thomas has held leadership positions in her neighborhood. She has served as Chair and Vice-Chair of NPU-S. She was Vice-Chair of the City of Atlanta's Planning and Advisory Board for Neighborhood Planning and co-founder of the APAB Leadership Institute for the City of Atlanta. Ms. Thomas also serves as a member of the Georgia Delegation to the National Summit on Africa.

She has received a plethora of awards and commendations for her work in the media, language skills, her extensive volunteer work, and her skills as a trainer. Ms. Thomas is a member of the Trustee Board of Big Bethel A.M.E. Church in Atlanta and the mother of one daughter, Alvelyn J. Sanders, B.S. and M.A.

After seventeen (17) years of employment with Delta Air Lines, Inc., in 1994, Ms. Thomas retired from the local Atlanta Training Department and is presently employed as the Manager of the Temporary Protective Order Assistance Program for Domestic Violence at the Atlanta Municipal Court, Chief Judge Barbara Harris, presiding.
